Hope City Council last night passed an ordinance submitted by the Water and Light Plant Commission to sell revenue bonds in the amount of $250,000 to be used for extension and improvements at the municipal plant.

The bonds would run from 1958 through 1962. A public hearing on the proposed bond sale has been called by the Commission for 7:30 p. m. August 20 at the City Hall.

Much time was devoted last night to the discussion of drainage problems but very little action was taken. Requesting city help was Bruner-Ivory Handle Co., which has a problem at a new installation. Engineer C. O. Thomas estimated cost of the material alone to eliminate the problem would run $3,000. Other drainage problems with request for action included Pipe and 4th Streets and a ditch near Wylie Glass and Salvage Co. No action taken other than instructions to investigate.

There was some discussion of moving the Police Department to the building now being used as the Mayor's office. No action was taken.

The group did appropriate $750 for blacktopping the tennis courts at Fair park; bought 10 tables for Fair park from Southwest Woods Products at a cost of $170; discussed but took no action on a taxicab franchise; voted to give department chiefs vacation pay; will take bids on a new pickup truck for the street department and will repair a police car; discussed but took no action on closing an alley behind Tarpley's Motel; accepted the resignation of Roy Anderson as purchasing agent and granted permission for the blocking of a downtown street for a youth style show.

Arkansas AEA to Cut Down on Expenses

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Education Department has been asked to hold down expenditure from textbooks, audio-visual services and departmental needs until the 1957-58 education budget is reviewed in December.

The request was made by the state Board of Education.

Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said yesterday that the board had directed that textbook expenditures be held to $750,000 instead of $900,000; audio-visual services expenditures to $25,000 instead of $35,000; and departmental expenditures to $300,000 instead of $350,000.

The reductions are not actual cuts but merely orders to hold the line on these items until revenue effects of the new one percent increase in the sales tax are determined, Ford said.

Recently the board was advised to slash its proposed $4-million dollar budget by about five percent because the new tax failed to meet expectations. But last week the board decided to hold up a decision on cutting the budget until late this year when a better picture of the revenue increase will be available.

Sheffield Named Helena Mayor

HELENA (AP) — John C. Sheffield, an attorney and former state legislator, has been elected mayor of Helena.

Unofficial returns in yesterday's special election gave Sheffield 1,240 votes for a wide margin over Sam W. Anderson, the only other candidate, who polled 409.

Sheffield will serve out the term of the late Mayor James J. Horn, who died last June 17. The term expires Jan. 1 and a mayor will be elected for a full term in this November's general election. Anderson is the manager of Radio Station KFPA and Helena Alderman Floyd Curtis has been acting mayor since the death of Horn.

Kiwanians Hold a Picnic for Scouts

The Hope Kiwanis club yesterday was host to Girl Scouts of Hope at a picnic luncheon at Fair Park, the affair replacing the regular meeting at Hotel Barlow.

Two weeks ago the club entertained the Little League and Minor League club members, managers, sponsors and other persons connected with the baseball teams, with a picnic luncheon at the park. Dr. F. C. Crow and Mike Kelly have been elected to represent the club at a district convention to be held in Kansas City the latter part of September.

Senate Agrees on Vote Tonight on Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — An agreement clearing the way for a vote on passage of the civil rights bill tonight was reached in the Senate today.

The agreement, proposed by Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) and Knowland (R-Calif.), limits further debate to seven hours after the finish of a speech by Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.).

Stennis was in the midst of a speech when the agreement was made, and completed it at 12:50 p. m. The seven-hour debate limit then went into effect.

The agreement didn't specify a vote should be taken tonight but Johnson, the Democratic leader, said that was the intent.

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower said today the jury trial amendment to the Civil Rights bill would be most damaging to the entire federal judiciary.

The President restated his opposition to the amendment, adopted by the Senate, at his news conference. He declined, however, to say whether he would veto the bill if it reached his desk in its present form.

He repeated his statement of Aug. 2 that the measure, as amended by the Senate would seriously hamper operations of the federal court system.

Meanwhile Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said he will seek agreement later today for a Senate vote on passage of the civil rights measure tonight if possible. He predicted passage by a two-thirds margin.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland, looking ahead to a conference with the House on the measure said that administration lawyer are throwing up a new compromise which they hope will be acceptable to the President and the two houses.

Previously administration sources had listed harmful effects they say the jury trial amendment would have on the functioning not only of courts but of quasi-judicial regulatory bodies such as the Federal Trade Commission.

The Justice Department also said the amendment, if it became law, would require the Supreme Court to use juries to try violators of certain kind of order.

The President's discussion of the civil rights bill started when a reporter said his Aug. 2 attack on

Little Rock Man Fatally Injured

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — A Little Rock man was fatally injured early today when his car smashed into a bridge abutment near here.

Eugene H. Head, 23, was dead on arrival at St. Vincent's infirmary.

The Pulaski county sheriff's office said Head, alone in the car, hit the end of a concrete bridge on the Lawson Road about 1:30 a. m.

Man With Plate Can't Enjoy Chewing Gum

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — In this civilization, a middle-aged man can have many adventures.

He can float on a raft to the flowery isles of the South Pacific. He can discover a missing link in the Long Island Rail Road time table.

He can perhaps even find a new love.

But if he's 40 and got a partial plate — all I tell you one thing — he can't do it. He can't chew gum and feel any younger.

Ever since I had my four upper front teeth pulled some weeks ago, envious strangers have stopped me in the street to find out what the result was.

Frankly, I feel it's the kind of thing that ought to happen to a stranger — but, please, not me again.

Pair Refuses to Talk of Move to Install Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two New York Teamster officials refused to testify today about their roles in an alleged move to install James R. Hoffa and gangster Johnny Dio as co-leaders of the powerful labor union.

Brooklyn-born Frank Easton, described by the Senate Rackets committee as president of the old AFL-United Auto Workers local 225, invoked the Fifth Amendment 88 times in declining to say whether he knows Dio or Hoffa, aspirant for the Teamsters' presidency.

Joseph George Snyder of Queens, pleaded the Fifth Amendment 48 times, refusing to say whether he was a charter member of Teamsters Local 258 and became "president" of Local 382 last winter.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probers called in more witnesses today to show that racketeer Johnny Dio used unions he controlled to clinch James R. Hoffa's labor power in New York.

Counsel Robert T. Kennedy said paper locals, with vote but few if any actual members, were designed to help make Hoffa's hand-picked man, John O'Rourke, New York's Teamsters' boss. This would add to the East Coast power of Hoffa, now the Teamsters' Union's Midwest mogul.

Stanley Lehrer, Brooklyn lawyer for the Auto Glass Dealers Assn. of Greater New York, told the committee yesterday his group paid Dio for protection from other unions through Dio's Equitable Research Associates, Inc., in the way of what he called a "very soft" labor contract.

Lehrer said Dio delivered by preventing rival unions picketing and was paid $800 for his services under an agreement terminated when Dio was arrested.

Dio has been paroled from a New York jail to be a witness before the Rackets Committee tomorrow. He has been in jail awaiting sentence on shakedown conspiracy charges.

Stanley Seglin, a burly man per Teamsters Locals 289 and 302, invoked the Fifth Amendment 54 times yesterday in refusing to answer questions.

Counsel Kennedy said Seglin was an example of men Dio had placed in locals of the old AFL-United Auto Workers now the Allied Industrial Workers Union and then shifted to Teamsters Locals specially formed to help elect O'Rourke president of Teamsters Joint Council 16.

The council's power over truck deliveries makes it the most potent organized labor force in New York City.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) has said Hoffa is using the council as a springboard to control all labor on the Eastern Seaboard. Hoffa currently is the odds-on choice to succeed Dave Beck as Teamsters Union national president.

Stock Market in Another Dip

NEW YORK (INE) — The stock market dropped lower again today after selective early strength faded before noon.

Losses extending to about two dollars appeared in the industrial list which declined for a sixth straight session. Ralls also eased somewhat after their initial upward move.

Trading expanded beyond a two million share pace with increased activity in both the early and late sessions.

Copper, oil, chemical and air line shares had some of the larger setbacks.

Precipitation amounts for August are expected to equal or exceed normal over most areas east of the Appalachians and provide relief from the drought which has prevailed over much of this area. Above normal rainfall is also anticipated for the Southern Plateau and coastal areas of the Pacific Northwest. Subnormal rainfall is indicated over the Central and Southern Plains. Elsewhere normal amounts are predicted.

August temperatures are expected to average below seasonal normals from Ohio and Lower Mississippi Valleys eastward to the Atlantic Seaboard. Below normal is also predicted for central and northern areas west of the Continental Divide. Above normal temperatures are in prospect for the central third of the nation with greatest departures over the Northern Plains. In areas not specified near normal is indicated.

Youths, Older Folks Hold Monthly Meet

Representatives of Civic groups, P.T.A., Youth Council and Law enforcement agencies met in the regular monthly meeting at the courthouse Tuesday night, August 6, and discussed Youth Activities of the community.

All groups were complimentary in the way that parents and youths were cooperating with the voluntary time of 11:30 as set up in a previous meeting for all youth to be at home.

Chief of Police Brown stated that the cooperation of the youth and parents was greatly improved and expressed his appreciation to the youth for their fine attitude and willingness to shoulder their responsibility.

The group was enthusiastic about the proposed youth center as outlined by the Lions Club.

Death Takes Comedian Oliver Hardy

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Oliver Hardy, the rotund partner of the famed Laurel and Hardy movie comedy team, died of the results of a paralytic stroke at 7:25 a. m. PDT today. He was 65.

The plump comedian, who won world-wide acclaim with Stan Laurel over a span of more than two decades, succumbed at the Burbank, Calif., home of his mother-in-law after a long illness.

His wife for 17 years, Lucille, was by his side. They had no children. Hardy, who weighed over 300 pounds, had been in "very poor" condition since suffering a stroke a year ago. He was paralyzed and could not talk. He could barely eat and make motions with one hand.

The hefty comedian had been living in retirement, but his popularity was revived recently with the re-showing of many of the old Laurel and Hardy comedy classics on television.

Military Told to Cut Civilian Employment

WASHINGTON (UP) — An order to the military services to slash civilian employment was the latest piece of "bad news" handed out by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson in his final days as a cabinet officer.

Wilson, whose successor was expected to be announced today, ordered the services yesterday to halt civilian hiring immediately and work out plans for reduced civilian employment.

The military services presently employ 1,100,014 civilians around the world. They were given until the end of this month to come up with a reduced figure.

In another move the Defense Department announced plans today to pull the 6th Marine Regiment out of Japan and sent it to Okinawa. This was not a manpower cut, however, but a step to announced plans to get all U. S. ground forces out of Japan promptly. The regiment numbers 5,000 to 7,000 men.

Sees Population Increase for State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A national magazine has predicted that Arkansas' population will increase about 10.3 per cent in the next 10 years.

The U. S. News and World Report predicted in a copyrighted article that the population of the nation would increase by 60 million, or about 36 per cent, by 1975. Arkansas has suffered a decline in population in the past few years. Although no census figures are available, it is believed that the trend has been reversed in the past two years.

The magazine predicted that Arkansas' gain would be 187,000 people by 1975.

145 Take TB Tests at Ozan, Washington

Some 145 took tuberculosis tests yesterday at the first two stops of the Health Department's mobile X-ray unit at Ozan and Washington.

At Ozan 50 tests were made with Mrs. Milam Green, Mrs. Blanche Hines, Mrs. Charles Locke and Wilbur Jones as helpers.

Some 95 tests were given at Washington and helping technicians were Mrs. Robert Watson, Mary Lou Watson, Mrs. F. V. Portfield, Mrs. A. M. Hulsey and Sarah June Etter.

Wednesday morning the unit worked Belvidere and was at Ward Grocery, Hope, from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m.

Thursday the unit goes to Saratoga at Homer's Station from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.; and at Fulton from 1:30 to 4 p. m.

Friday it will be at the Courthouse in Hope from 9 to 12 noon and from 1 to 4:30 p. m.

The unit will return to its home army on Sunday, August 18, to be met by the usual large collection of sweethearts, wives, families and friends.

Top Soviet Intelligence Agent Arrested in U.S. on a Charge of Spying

Red Bigwigs in East Berlin, Rap Adenauer

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet commander boss Nikita Khrushchev arrived in East Berlin today for a tour of residence. East Germany. He promptly denounced the foreign policy of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer as a "great danger" to world peace.

The Soviet leader made the statement during a massive welcoming ceremony at East Berlin's railway station.

Khrushchev, speaking just five weeks in advance of West German elections in which Adenauer faces a tough fight against the Socialists, told the welcoming rally:

"Unfortunately, our peace efforts have not been supported by the ruling quarters of the West German Federal Republic. They counteract the interests of their nation without paying attention to the bad experiences of the past."

They sow the poisoned seed of distrust against the Soviet Union and the whole Socialist camp.

"This is a great danger not only for our peoples but also to the cause of world peace."

Khrushchev spoke a few minutes after an East German army band hailed him with the Prussian army presentation march, the military anthem played for Adolf Hitler and Kaiser Wilhelm II.

East German troops wearing Soviet-style helmets paraded past in his honor.

Khrushchev, heading a nine-man Moscow delegation, stepped onto the platform closely followed by Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The Russian leader looked a trifle surprised as he was promptly grabbed in a bear hug by spade-headed Walter Ulbricht, the Stalinist boss of East Germany.

Khrushchev, wearing a light suit and a flashy striped tie, was given as follows: Irvin Wengster and Shelton Dishongh, Oaks Court, Phone 7-5893; William Huggins at Cains Court, Phone 7-9079, or Dr. Herbert Rogers, Phone 7-5511.

Retesting for Bangs Disease Now Underway

The retesting of Hempstead County cattle herds that contained one or more animals infected with Bangs Disease is now underway. Four technicians representing the Animal Disease Eradication Branch, USDA, are making the tests as rapidly as possible, advises County Agent Oliver L. Adams.

In the original test of all herds which has just been completed, an excessive number of cattle were infected with this disease which prevents immediate certification of Hempstead County as a Modified-Certified Free Area.

The only way to bring the infection down so that cattle may move freely interstate without testing is to retest all herds at the earliest possible date with the hope that the infection will be lowered within the 5% requirements.

To date, 45 herds that did contain the disease have been retested and only seen contained reactors. If this number does not increase, the county should be certified at the completion of the first retest. A second retest of a herd may be made in a 30-day period if reactors are found.

In order that herd owners that had reactors may contact the technician for a convenient date, the name and telephone numbers are given as follows: Irvin Wengster and Shelton Dishongh, Oaks Court, Phone 7-5893; William Huggins at Cains Court, Phone 7-9079, or Dr. Herbert Rogers, Phone 7-5511.

Penalty Could Be Death; Posed as Photographer

NEW YORK (AP) — A man described by federal officials as a Soviet-Russian colonel of intelligence masquerading as a Brooklyn artist was indicted today as a spy. The penalty, if he is convicted, could be death.

The officials said the man, Rudolf Ivanovich Abel, 55, was the highest ranking Soviet national ever arrested in the United States as a spy.

They said he was a colonel in the Soviet State Security Service — corresponding to the American Central Intelligence Agency — and that he headed the service's activities in the United States.

They said his base of operations was a photographic studio across the street from the Brooklyn federal courthouse, where a grand jury returned the indictment against him.

The indictment named four other men as coconspirators but not as defendants.

It charged that Abel conspired to "activate as agents within the United States, certain members of the armed forces who were in a position to acquire information relating to the national defense of the United States."

Whether this alleged attempt was successful was not indicated. The indictment said the studio was for making microfilm of information for transmission to Soviet Russia.

A man with a partial plate feels like he has a mouth full of marbles, but unlike Demosthenes, this sensation doesn't encourage him to further oratory. The small new whistle in his speech, which yesterday he thought would be gone tomorrow, is still there next week. He begins to hate the letter "S."

He has to. For if he pronounces it clearly he inadvertently whistles

But a worse blow to the self-respect of a man with a partial plate comes when he tries to chew gum for the first time—which is usually the last time.

I just finished making this effort. I started with one piece and went on, piece after piece, until I had the whole package in my mouth.

Each piece clung to the denture deeper so that finally I could no longer either whisper or hiss—I was silenced behind a silent, elastic curtain. A gum gum curtain.

40 Laws Affected in Rights Battle

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats aimed at one bird in the civil rights bill. But they used a shotgun and hit everything in sight.

They acted hastily in amending President Eisenhower's civil rights bill—with the help of a handful of Republicans—that right now they don't know all they hit or the full effect of what they did.

At least 40 laws, many government agencies and all the federal courts are affected. That much is known.

Eisenhower reportedly vetoed this bill if the House agrees to what the Senate did and sends it to him. Because of the measure's widespread and uncertain effect, it's hard to see how he could do otherwise, even though vetoing it puts him on a political hot-spot with Negro voters.

The bill was intended to protect Negroes' voting rights. It gives them far more protection than they've ever had. But its effects go far beyond voting rights.

The Eisenhower administration proposed letting the attorney general stop in when Negroes' voting rights are violated. He could ask a federal judge for a court order to stop the violations.

Anyone disobeying could—after a trial on a charge of civil contempt—be jailed until he complied. Anyone disobeying after it was too late for compliance could be given a flat jail sentence for criminal contempt of court.

In both cases—civil and criminal contempt—the judge, without a jury, would do the trying and sentencing under the administration's proposal. There is nothing new in this. Trial by judge for contempt of court has existed throughout American history.

In a very few instances there have been specific laws permitting trial by jury in cases of criminal contempt. The Constitution guarantees jury trial for crimes but not for contempt of court.

A crime—being a violation of state or federal law—is an offense against the state or the government. Contempt of court is an offense against the authority of a judge and his power to command compliance with his order.

Southern Democrats did not argue against trial by judge alone for civil contempt. But for criminal contempt they demanded a jury trial. Some Northern Democrats, avoiding a split in the party, agreed to that and then went far beyond it.

Thirty-nine Democrats and 12 Republicans—with 6 Democrats and 33 Republicans opposing them—voted to provide trial by jury in every criminal contempt of court case. That's a huge order.

A number of laws provide for court orders—and trial by judge—for criminal contempt—but no one knows how many. The latest count, before the vote Thursday night, was 40.

Tied in with those laws are many government agencies—like the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Labor Relations Board, the Federal Communications Commission—which depend on court orders for final carrying out of their rulings.

Also affected are such laws as the Antitrust Act and the Fair Labor Standards Act which, with the government trying to carry them out, depend in the end on a court order to compel compliance.

The courts would still have great authority to get compliance through civil contempt action.

Whether or not people who are in criminal contempt of court should be tried by a judge or jury is a legitimate and profound question. The Senate could have voted jury trial for contempt of court in voting rights cases and stopped there.

But it went beyond that in a way hardly fitting consideration of an amendment so far-reaching. Ordinarily in questions of such magnitude both houses of Congress, before voting, would hold hearings.

They'd hold hearings to get the views of federal judges, the federal agencies involved, the American Bar Assn. and all other interested parties. No hearings have ever been held on this.

No one except senators had a chance to give views. The Democrats slammed this legislation together on the floor of the Senate.

STAMPEDE
AT BLUE SPRINGS

CHAPTER XX

Shapes came clear. The hotel, I decided, and Blanchard, sitting by the bed. The only part of me that hurt was my head. There was a pain there that started high in back and went down into my neck. I closed my eyes and it eased off. I opened my eyes and raised up off the bed and then I felt other pain. Somebody held a hot iron against my backbone, my shoulders ached like sin, my left leg had a bad sore spot above the knee. But I sat up and looked at Blanchard. I could see better out of my left eye. I felt of my right one. There was a hard lump at the side of it and a bad ache.

"Good morning," Blanchard said. "A bad night, Pike?"

"Howdy, Harney." My lips were busted up, too, I noticed when I talked. "You don't know the half of it. How did I get here?"

"I rode out south, like I said. Found you sprawled by the road at the edge of town. What happened?"

"Nev Hawk. He beat the daylights out of me."

"Hawk, the foreman? What did you do to him?"

"I just got too close."

"Might be time to make that right," Blanchard said, soft. "I had a doctor up. Said you needed a few days on your back but you'll be all right."

"I remembered more about the night I grabbed the front of Blanchard's shirt. Harney, I had him! I had Pete Dorsey!"

"You did?"

"I told him, forgetting my hurts until I had it all out. Blanchard listened without saying a word. Finally, I was alone. I lay back on the bed."

"That took guts, Pike. And practically no sense at all."

"I should've kept another horse for later. That's what we might've made it. Harney."

"You should have been back for me. You might have been killed half a dozen times. Where did you get the idea you could take on the whole bunch?"

"Didn't think that, Harney. I thought I knew I suppose I spoiled it for sure."

"Blanchard got up and went to the window. No. Maybe you changed their plans. They might think they've got to hurry now."

"What about Cole Jeffree?"

"Blanchard shrugged. 'I looked everywhere I knew to look. He'd been to the hotel but didn't stay. He wasn't in the saloon. Lillian hadn't seen him. I did what I could, then look out after you. Looks like I waited too long.'

"I got up and looked around the bed for my books."

er, if I took care of myself. Leaving the hotel, I said, "I turned my horse loose."

"He came back to the livery. I put him away and rubbed him down and fed him. He'd been working hard."

"I like to killed him," I said, shaking my head, and. "See anything of my Springfield?"

"Blanchard shook his head. 'Dropped it somewhere,' I said."

"We headed to the livery. Owen didn't say anything to me, just stared at my face. I must have been a sight, judging from how I felt to my fingers. I looked at Pilot. Standing with his head low, he looked dead beat. I told Owen to feed him everything he'd eat, and Owen said he would. Then one an Blanchard went out into the sun by the livery and made smokes. I let the sun rub on my sore places."

"What now?" I said.

"Dan Clement came in to see Lillian last night. Stayed there maybe half an hour."

"But Cole didn't show up?"

"She said he didn't."

"Blanchard started to walk slow across in front of me, his arms folded over his chest. He said, 'Pike, it gets so a man wants to ride out to the Clements place and force a showdown. Even with practically no chance at all to win he wants to do that.'"

"Sure, Harney. I knew how he felt. I knew he was mighty tired of waiting. And what I'd done hadn't made it any easier."

"Blanchard's eyes fixed on me. Soft, he said, 'Am I wrong? Why am I waiting? Because it's Dorsey's only chance, isn't that right?'"

"Sure, Harney."

"We had a chance last night that came because we waited. We had two chances last night, counting Cole, and neither one paid off. Either one could have."

"I started to say something. He stopped me with a look. He said, 'Yes, Pike. Lillian. Again.'"

I shrugged and limped along with him. I couldn't see why he wanted to talk to Lillian so much when he didn't believe what she said. Maybe it was different now because Cole Jeffree did come on the night she said, even if he didn't come on the train. I hoped he felt different. It seemed to me like everybody would like Lillian once they got to know her. I wished Blanchard could see her a few times without Pete Dorsey on his mind.

"By Lillian's gate, I stopped. 'You married, Harney?'"

"Blanchard looked surprised. Then he said, 'He shook his head. Lillian let us in without a word. All without taking her eyes off me. I was playing with an old powder horn on the floor in the parlor.'"

Lillian sat still in a straight chair. I could see that she blamed Harney. Blanchard said what had happened to me. I knew what was waiting for me. I knew what I had to do.

Blanchard said, "You know, Cole's in town now?"

"I heard last night," she said. (To Be Continued)

U. S. Not to Open All Bases to Russians

LONDON (AP)—The United States has made plain to Russia that it will not open all its bases to Soviet aerial inspection until the place of Asia's "Red" nations in Russian military plans is spelled out.

Harold E. Stassen, U.S. delegate to the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee, indicated this yesterday when Russia's "Valerian Zorin" made a three-point request for clarification on the air and ground inspection system proposed last week by Secretary of State Dulles.

Asked by Zorin why the plan did not cover U.S. bases in North Africa, the Middle East, Turkey and Pakistan, Stassen replied that their inclusion would have brought up "very difficult" political questions.

Stassen pointed out that the Western proposal provides for possible expansion of the inspection zones when and if progress is made toward settling political questions involved.

Informed U.S. source here made clear the main question involved in expanding the inspection zones in Russia's relationship with the Communist government of China, North Korea, North Viet Nam and Outer Mongolia.

Those "Red" nations are not recognized by the United States and are not involved in the disarmament negotiations.

Presumably the United States feels that excluding certain Western bases from inspection would offset the possibility that an attack might be mounted from Red China or some other Communist Asian nation.

Russia has contended that she could be in danger of attack from Africa and the Middle East while holding inspection right over Europe and North America.

Zorin sought clarification on two other points:

1. Why did the Dulles plan, rule out creation of an inspection plan covering only Europe—and make this conditional on creation either of a zone centering in the Arctic Circle or a broader zone embracing almost all of North America and the Soviet Union?

2. Did Dulles propose that Russia and the West cooperate in setting up air and ground inspection before or after a first-step disarmament treaty comes into force?

Slapping in Queen Incident Brings Fine

LONDON (AP)—A 64-year-old today paid $2.30 for slapping the face of the peer who criticized Queen Elizabeth II.

Philip Kinghorn Burbridge, an ex-soldier and merchant seaman, pleaded guilty in Bow Street Criminal Court to slapping 33-year-old Lord Altrincham.

He was fined one pound—$2.30.

Altrincham sent eyebrows and tempers rising last week with an article panning the public speaking, interest and advisers of Queen Elizabeth II.

Other peers muttered dire threat but Burbridge was the first to take physical action in defense of his sovereign.

Burbridge was accused specifically of insulting behavior.

In lining him, the chief London magistrate, Sir Laurence Dunne, said: "Your action only made a most unsavory episode more squalid. In a case like this, it is the weight of public opinion that counts, and not making a brawl of it."

Burbridge, who said he earned $19.00 as a representative of the ultra-nationalist League of Empire Loyalists, told the judge: "Such actions are foreign to my nature. Due to the security of my job by Lord Altrincham, I felt it was up to decent Britons to show some respect."

"What I feared most was the overseas repercussions and the repudiation in the American newspapers."

After the one-punch battle last night outside a Broadcasting station, Burbridge had told reporters:

"I did what Prince Philip wanted to do but couldn't."

Two Robbers Are Nabbed at Texarkana

TEXARKANA (AP)—Two men have been charged with armed robbery in connection with the holdup of a Safeway market at nearby New Boston, Tex., last night and one of the men has confessed participation in three recent robberies of a Texarkana food store.

District Atty. Herbert Line last night filed armed robbery charges against Charles Campbell, 22, of Texarkana and Don L. Weathers, 28, of Houston, Tex.

The two men were arrested shortly after the robbery of the supermarket at 8 p. m.

Asst. Police Chief Homer Goff said no estimate of the money taken in the holdup was available immediately. It was believed that all of the loot was recovered.

Both men confessed to involvement in the supermarket robbery, Goff said. He said Campbell also admitted participation in three holdups of a Texarkana food store recently.

Officer said James Warren, manager of the New Boston supermarket, and his assistant, Dale Walls, left the store and went to a nearby parking lot. There, police said, a man wearing a rubber Halloween mask ordered them back to the store at pistol point and took the day's receipts.

Shortly after an alarm was broadcast, Patrolman L. C. White stopped a car on a Texarkana street. Campbell and Weathers were inside.

White arrested the pair and found the bag of money from the supermarket in the automobile Goff said.

Officers said both men were convicts.

Senate Agrees

the Senate's jury trial amendment had been widely interpreted as an indication of a veto should the bill reach him in its current form. The reporter asked whether Eisenhower might accept a compromise limiting the right of trial by jury in federal contempt proceedings to voting rights cases.

The president said his statement of Aug. 2 reflected his position very accurately, and that he could not forecast his action on the legislation before he gets it.

A reporter said some legal authorities believe that the jury trial amendment would be "workable." He asked the president specifically what he objected to in the proposal.

Freight Rate Increases Are Granted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has approved freight rate increases ranging from 4 to 7 per cent for the nation's railroads, effective after 15 days' notice to the public.

The new tariffs are expected to add 443 million dollars annually to freight costs, and will put freight charges about 107 per cent above the levels of June 1946.

The increases, announced yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission, follow by only a few months a series of emergency rate boosts allowed by the agency. Those became effective about the first of this year.

Under yesterday's ICC action, Eastern and Western railroads get a 7 per cent rate hike, and Southern carriers get a 4 per cent hike. There were some exceptions noted in the order.

The earlier emergency increase amounted to 7 per cent in the East, and 5 per cent in the South and West. The net annual effect of these emergency changes was an estimated 455 million dollar increase in freight costs.

Thus, the over-all rate increases—yesterday's plus the emergency boosts earlier—run to 14 per cent in the East, 12 per cent in the West and 9 per cent in the South. The over-all increased freight cost was estimated by the ICC staff at $897,800,000 a year.

In the exception, the commission provided for a uniform overall increase of 12 per cent on most manufactured goods, and a uniform boost of 9 per cent on grain, livestock, fresh meat and packing house products. These two rates apply in all territories.

Most of the land occupied by the 15 buildings, including the Associated Press Building, in New York's Rockefeller Plaza, are owned by Columbia University.

Dry Your Tears, Mother — Let Sonny Live His Life

Dear Dorothy Dix: My father left us when we were small children and mother had a very difficult time raising my brother and me. When we grew up we made things much easier for her. I married, my brother stayed home and mom began to enjoy life, with nice clothes, vacations and her own bank account.

His work throws him in contact with people we (mother and I) don't like, and we've never approved of his friends. They knew my brother was big hearted and took advantage of him. When they visited him, you could see they weren't used to nice things and finally mom told brother point-blank that she didn't want them. They have never been back since, but now my brother stays out two or three days at a time. When he does come home, he's so tired he's no company for mom. Mother has never made friends — she wanted all her free time available for her son, don't you think he's wrong to stay away? Mom cries all the time. I think this is a poor reward for a life time of devotion.

WORRIED SISTER

Dear Sister: Your attempt to make brother the villain of the story cuts no ice with him. His friends weren't the only people who took advantage of him! I notice you carefully drew a curtain over your part of the drama. Are you an innocent bystander?

Your mother did have a hard time bringing you up. She did make sacrifices, but her son certainly did his best to make it up to her. Don't you think in the face of his friends? No child should be expected to devote his entire life to his mother. A much more natural life would have been led by the members of this household if mom had cultivated friendships, and permitted her son to do the same. This case warrants a reshuffling of relationships; tell your mother to dry those tears and face the facts of life. Persuade her to adopt outside activity, entertain sonny's friends and be prepared to welcome a daughter-in-law one of these days.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I plan to give my girl an engagement ring for her birthday next month. Should my mother know about the ring before I present it? We get along swell with our respective families and I wouldn't want to hurt anyone.

P. Q.

Dear P. Q.: It would be a very considerate gesture to tell your mother about the ring and show it to her. This is the sort of thing that goes a long way in preventing in-law troubles after marriage.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Hilda will have nothing to do with Marie because she thinks the latter broke up her romance. It's true that while dating Hilda, Max spoke admiringly about Marie, but he never had a date with her. Now Max is married — to someone else — but Hilda still bears a grudge. — MRS. D. O.

Russo Gains Win Amid a Near Riot

By JACK GUDDY

NEW YORK (UP) — Pigeons and firecrackers will be officially banned Thursday from future TV fights at St. Nicholas arena because of last night's disorders that resulted in the hospitalization of two spectators, one arrest and the egg-pelting of ringsiders.

Deputy Boxing Commissioner Joe Tepper today ordered promoter Teddy Brenner, welterweight Eddie Lynch and manager Bill Carfaro to appear at commission headquarters Thursday for a "dressing down."

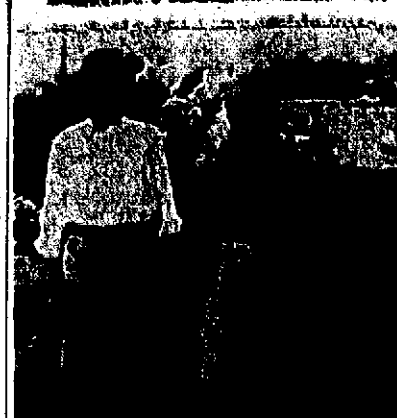

Lynch of New York, who has a large and noisy following known as "Pandemonium, Inc.," lost a split eight-round decision to Danny (Bang Bang) Russo of Brooklyn last night. It was a bloody fight, during which Russo's equally noisy Brooklyn followers were alleged to have thrown the eggs—hens' eggs—not pigeons!

Two spectators, struck by thrown chairs, were having their injuries X-rayed today at Roosevelt hospital, where they were taken in an ambulance from St. Nick's Abraham Lessner suffered a torn scalp and possible skull fracture. Nick Gravina sustained a compound fracture of the nose. Both are New Yorkers.

Just before the main event, one egg hit a fighter who was being introduced as a future contestant, and another hit a sports writer. Later two more eggs landed in the ring, which had to be sprinkled liberally with resin dust to prevent Lynch and Russo from slipping. Just how many spectators were hit is not known.

Promoter Brenner was surprised that the Lynch and Russo followers got out of hand. At previous Lynch bouts, his followers had been noisy with their released pigeon, fire crackers, bugles, stamping and yelling; but nothing had been thrown.

Postmaster Bids Get Ike's 'Okay'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Senate has confirmed President Eisenhower's nominations for six Arkansas postmasters' jobs.

caused the arrest of William Boon of Valley Stream, N. Y., for alleged cruelty to pigeons. But Boon claims Joseph Schlesinger of the A.S.P.C.A. got the wrong man.

"I wasn't my crute of pigeons," declared Boon. "I was just trying to move the crute out of my way. I don't know who put it there by my sent."

But Schlesinger claims he colored Boonzi when he had a pigeon in his hand.

Russo, weighing 148 pounds to Lynch's 151, won an upset split decision after suffering a deep and bloody gash on his cheek in the fourth round. Lynch's left brow was cut in the seventh.

Russo, a 6-5 underdog, was so effective with his body attack he earned the voices of the two judges, Nick Gamboli and Harold Barnes; but referee Barney Felix favored head-hunter Lynch.

Ousted Medic Asks for Job Back

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A minor impost began brewing yesterday after an ousted University Medical Center staff member asked for his job back.

Dr. Anderson Nettleship, former head of the pathology department, sent a letter to the new head, Dr. Hans C. Schlumberger, offering his services.

But Dr. John T. Caldwell, president of the University of Arkansas, issued a statement at Fayetteville yesterday declaring that Nettleship's services had been "properly terminated."

Not no, Nettleship's lawyer replied. He said that Nettleship was not fired by the Board of Trustees and therefore the move was "illegal. The case will be taken to the board if Nettleship's letter is not answered, the attorney said. Nettleship was demoted 1 1/2 years ago as head of the pathology department, then dismissed last May. Medical Center Provost Dr. F. Douglas Lawrason said Nettleship's continued employment was "disadvantageous to the harmonious functioning of the center."

Navy to Put 60 Ships in Mothballs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy plans to put 60 ships — including the battleship Iowa and 26 other combat vessels — into mothballs soon to reduce expenses.

In announcing the cut yesterday, the Navy said there would be little effect on fighting power because of the new atomic-powered submarines and other modern vessels scheduled to join the fleet by next June.

While the older ships are being laid up, 23 new vessels and 10 ships being converted to more modern weapons will be added to the fleet, the Navy added.

Other ships to be deactivated will include 2 destroyers, 16 destroyer escorts, 2 submarines, and 14 noncombat category 3 transports, 5 landing ships, 5 attack cargo ships and 21 minesweepers and mine hunters.

The specific vessels will be picked soon, the Navy said.

The removal of the Iowa from the fleet leaves only one battleship, the Wisconsin, on active duty.

The cuts come in the wake of a Pentagon order to the Navy to reduce its personnel by 15,000 men, and to hold down spending.

Johnson-Cox Vows Pledges

Miss Carolyn Ann Cox of Omaha, Neb., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew B. Cox, formerly of Little Rock, became the bride of Sgt. Thomas J. Johnson, USAF, at 3 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church of Omaha. Rev. Robert E. Holly officiated at the ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the church parlors. Sergeant Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Coy M. Johnson of Hollis, Okla. Miss Cox's paternal grandmother is Mrs. A. H. Pate of Little Rock. Her maternal grandparents were the late Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Gentry of Blevins.

Baskets of white gladiolus and asters decorated the altar. Mr. Richard, the soloist, was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Lucille Ferguson. E. L. Goddard played the piano during the reception.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina gown of Chantilly lace and tulle. The bodice with long scalloped waistline, was finished with a jeweled portrait neckline and long tapered sleeves. The skirt was of lace over crystal pleated tulle. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was caught to interlocking circles of pearls which had been worn by her cousin, Mrs. Ernest Harley Cox Jr., of Pine Bluff. She carried a white orchid on a Bible which had been given to her by her grandmother, Mrs. Pate.

Miss Lynne Kelly, maid of honor, wore a dress of gold crystal. The bridesmaid, Miss Linda Dishow, and the jill-of-the-bride, Miss Ann Shugart, cousin of the bride, wore green. They carried nosegays of chrysanthemums and daisies. Charen Allen and Judy Fredericksen lighted the candles.

George Hiddleston served as best man. Ushers were Alvin John, Robert Byrd, Raymond Smith and Howard Meek. For their trip to the South, the bride wore a navy blue suit of cotton and silk with navy and white accessories.

Thought For The Day

"False friendship, like the ivy, decays and ruins the walls it embraces; but true friendship gives new life and animation to the object it supports." — Burton said it.

Calendar of Events
County 4-H Conservation
Camp To Be Held
On Friday, August 9, 1957, thirty (30) 4-H Club members from Hempstead County are expected to attend the conservation camp which will be held on the lake at the Experiment Station, beginning at 9 a. m., and which will be in session until 3 p. m. Various demonstrations and activities will be carried out during the day.

Some of the activities are: Wildlife conservation, forest, soil and water conservation, outdoor craft demonstrations, camp crafts, and a cook out. The cook out will include cooking a meal over open fire.

One of the objectives of this camp is to train older 4-H members in different conservation attitudes and techniques. A team of Extension and Game and Fish Commission personnel will conduct the program.

We are hoping the group will have a joyous time as well as gain more information from the demonstrations to be given so that it might help them to be better 4-H Club members.

Baby Shower
The Missionary Society and Stewardess Board No. 2 of BeBee Memorial C. M. E. Church will sponsor a Shower in honor of little Cornelia Marie Stearns, baby daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. S.
Stearns, Friday, August 9th, in the Basement of the Church.

Refreshments will be served. All members and friends are cordially invited.

4-H Delegation Returns
From Camp
On Friday, August 2, 1957, Hem-stead County 4-H Club delegation consisting of 16 4-H Club members, one leader and the County and Home Demonstration Agents, returned home from State 4-H Club Camp which was held at A. M. and N. College, Pine Bluff, Ark.
The group seemed to have had a wonderful time and gained much from the meetings, demonstrations and other various activities given for them. They were also elated because of the awards won by them.

Persons who won "A" awards were: Ella Muriel Caple of Blewett Springs, Club in Food Preparation; Leo James Smith of Oak Grove Club in Entomology; Charles Block of Antioch Club in Electrical Identification.

Other persons attending were:
Arwilda James and Clarence Turner of Oak Grove, Sylvia Wade, Brenda Richie and Sammie Grace Treyer of Blewett Springs, Arlene Richardson of Green Hill, Bertha Johnson, David C. Williamson and John Johnson of Antioch, John Lee Smith of Churchill, Caroly Lloyd of Hopewell 4-H Club, Verna Smith and Wiley Jones of McCaskill 4-H Club. Mrs. Dottie Colbert of Antioch, a community served as leader for the group along with the agents, Miss Ever Lee Ford and Cayce B. Smith.

A game will be held tonight between the Cubs and Tigers at 7:30 p. m. Come out and see an interesting game of baseball. Time 7:30 place City park, usual admission at the gate.

The managers of all colored baseball clubs are asked to meet with the officers of the civic club at Hicks' funeral home Thursday at 5:30 p. m.

COM AND GO
Mrs. Tressie Dennis McKinney, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. O. N.
Dennis, left this morning enroute to Seattle, Washington where she will join her husband, Mr. Jesse McKinney.

Braves Regain First Place as Cards Falter

By Tim Moriarty
United Press Sports Writer
Warren Spahn ran into his "cousins" from Cincinnati just in time to pitch the Milwaukee Braves back into first place in the National League pennant scramble.

During his 13-year major league career, Spahn always has been a rough hombre for Cincinnati to deal with. So when the Redlegs showed up at Milwaukee's county stadium last night, manager Fred Haney jut tossed a bull to the Buffalo, N. Y., native and said, "go get 'em, Warren."

Spahn had finished only one of his last seven starts, but the sight of those Redlegs in their sleeveless shirts was all he needed. Although the veteran southpaw allowed nine hits, he hung on enough to gain his fourth victory of the season over the Redlegs, 5-4, and boost the Braves back into first place, a half game ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Braves scored their decisive run in the sixth on a double by rookie outfielder Bob Hazel. Spahn, who now has a 43-14 career record against Cincinnati, permitted the Redlegs to pull to within one run of the lead in the ninth inning but he reared back and struck out pinch hitter Smoky Burgess with runners on first and second to end the game.

The Chicago Cubs dropped St.
Louis into second place by whipping the Cardinals, 8-2; the Pittsburgh Pirates broke an eight-game losing streak at the expense of the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-3, and the New York Giants blanked the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-0, in other National League games.

The New York Yankees increased their American league lead to seven games by stopping the Washington Senators, 4-0; the Kansas City Athletics presented new manager Harry Carey with a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox; the Cleveland Indians inounced the Detroit Tigers, 5-1, and the Baltimore Orioles edged the Boston Red Sox, 2-1.

Bob Ruth, the Nubs' hard-luck right-hander, pitched his first complete game of the season against the Cardinals, allowing only six hits. Stan Musial hit 25th in home run of the campaign while in Bob Speake and Cal Neenan homered for the Cubs, who raked three Cardinal pitchers for 13 hits.

Ronnie Kline allowed only five hits, including a three-run homer by Harry Anderson, as he outdueled the Phillies' Jack Sanford.
It was Kline's first victory since June 9 and only his third of the year against 15 losses. Sanford's record now is 14-4.

Bobby Thomson drove in three runs with two triples to back up Curt Barclay's five-hit shutout against the Dodgers.

Bob Turley gave up only four hits—two each by Jim Lemon and Art Schult—as he stretched his string of consecutive no-hitters to nine, to 22 against the Senators.
The win was "Big Bob" eighth of the season against three losses. The Yankees scored all their runs off
Chuck Stobbs, who now has a 5-15 log.

Home runs by ex-Yankees Woody Heid and Billy Martin helped the A's break a seven-game losing streak and Stamp Craft's managerial debut a success.

The Indians collected only four hits off Jim Bunning in six innings, but three of them were homers by Roger Maris, Gene Woodling and Vic Wertz. Don Mos-si, meanwhile, scattered eight Detroit hits. It was the Tigers' fourth straight setback and dropped them into sixth place.

Willie Miranda drove in both runs and Jim Busby collected three hits as the Orioles lost over fifth place by defeating the Red Sox.

World Meet Brings in Top Golfers

CHICAGO (AP)—Goldom's big $est pressure tournament, the $101,200 "World" at T am OSahner, opens tomorrow with an aggregation of professional golfers only that amount of money could lure.

They will be playing for the
No. 1 prize of $50,000 with an additional $50,000 for the winner for a yearlong series of exhibitions.

The top man on the list is Roberto de Vincenzo, the Mexican City pro who won the All American Tournament over the weekend. He shot a snappy 273, 15 under par.

Can he repeat? De Vincenzo himself has had shooting for $3,500 and for $50,000 makes a big difference. Yet it is the same course and the same number of holes.
